History of Neumann University

When the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia opened the doors of Our Lady of Angels College in September 1965, the total enrollment was 115 female students. Today, as Neumann University (NU), the university educates nearly 2,500 students, engages over 14,900 alumni, and is one of the largest employers in Aston Township, PA. Since 1965, the College has met the needs of its students, even beyond its initial traditional undergraduate programs. In September 1971, a program for adult women was initiated. This program has evolved and is now part of the Adult and Continuing Education (ACE) unit in the School of Business. Its degree programs (Business and Organizational Studies, Liberal Studies, and Public Safety Administration) are accelerated and online. Also in 1971, the administration responded to the need that women needed safe, professional daycare for their children while they attended classes. A childcare center opened on the third floor of the main building and quickly evolved into the current Child Development Center (1973) accommodating preschool aged children. In 1980, the Board of Trustees approved the name change from Our Lady of Angels to Neumann. The name Neumann College seemed fitting given the significant role that then Bishop John Neumann had in assisting the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia in the early days of the Congregation. Also, in 1980 Neumann formally accepted its first male undergraduate students. In 1985, the Thomas A. Bruder, Jr. Life Center, housing the Bruder Gymnasium and the Meagher Theatre, became the third building on the Neumann College campus.

Expanding undergraduate degree programs and initiating graduate programs became the goal to ensure academic growth. In 1982, the College was granted approval to award a Master of Science degree in Pastoral Counseling (now Pastoral Clinical Mental Health Counseling), followed in 1987 by permission to grant an Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Studies. Master of Science degree programs have since been developed in the areas of Accounting, Education, Nursing, Physical Therapy, Sport Business, and Organizational and Strategic Leadership. In 2004, the College was granted approval to offer its first doctoral program, the entry-level clinical Doctorate in Physical Therapy (DPT). In 2006, approval was granted for the College to offer its second doctoral program, the EdD in Educational Leadership. In late April 2009, the College received approval (the certificate of authority) from the Pennsylvania Department of Education to become Neumann University. According to former President Rosalie Mirenda, "University status is the culmination of Neumann's transformation. It is a catalyst for enhancing scholarship, research and service to our community. At the same time, Neumann's commitment to its mission, core values and personal attention to our students remains the same." In 2013 Neumann was granted approval to offer a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) program in Pastoral Counseling (now Counselor Education and Supervision).

For Neumann to provide a holistic experience for its undergraduate students and to assist with the growth goals, a residential program was approved by the Board of Trustees. When the first residence hall opened in 1997, the building housed 177 students and transformed campus life. There are now three residence halls on campus (Flynn Hall, Cunningham Hall, and O'Neill Hall), and an adjacent apartment complex (Buoni Building) leased for student housing, all together having capacity to house more than 750 students.

In 2004, Neumann University acquired a 46,434-square-foot office building located at the Concord Road entrance of the campus from the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia. The newly named Rocco A. Abessinio Building now houses additional classroom and office space. Neumann University opened the Mirenda Center for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development on October 17, 2009. The Mirenda Center features more than 72,000 square feet of space including an arena, classroom, meeting and event rooms, exhibits, offices, and athletic facilities. This new, state-of-the-art facility was named in honor of Dr. Rosalie M. Mirenda and her husband, Tony, by the Board of Trustees in acknowledgement of the Mirendas' many years of hard work, dedication, and commitment to the Catholic Franciscan identity and mission of NU.

Seeking to unify an ever-expanding campus, the St. John Neumann Circle was created to connect the original Bachmann Building and the Bruder Life Center on one side of Convent Road with the Mirenda Center and residence halls on the other side of the road. On April 1, 2010 two commissioned statues were placed in the Circle. The most prominent, on a high base and at the Circle's center, is of St. John Neumann, the namesake of the University. The second, at ground level and facing the students who walk from the residence halls and the Mirenda Center, is a Sister of St. Francis of Philadelphia, representing the sponsoring Congregation.

In 2014, the focus on academic excellence and student learning continued. A two-phased library renovation was completed. The first phase of the project was completed in 2012 with the addition of new learning and study commons areas on the third floor, the creation of a media-enhanced classroom designed to seat 90, and offices to house the Neumann Institute for Franciscan Studies, endowed in 2000 by the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia. The final phase of the project was completed in time for the start of the fall 2014 semester, as the University's fiftieth anniversary celebration began.

In 2016, a new $5 million, 10,000-square-foot addition to the Bruder Life Center was completed. The addition, named the John J. Mullen Communication Center, was built to support students in the Communication and Digital Media (CDM) major and students who join Neumann Media to explore their creative talents. The Mullen Communication Center houses three radio studios; two TV studios with the latest camera, broadcasting, recording and editing technology; Wenger rooms with sound isolation for recording and editing; a student meeting room; a green room; and a multipurpose hall with theatre-in-the-round capability, smart board TVs, giant projection screens, and more.

In spring 2017, Forward with Faith, a special campaign, was begun to honor the legacy of former President Dr. Rosalie Mirenda, and her husband, Tony, for their years of leadership, vision, and commitment to students and the University's Catholic Franciscan mission. The campaign supported three projects: construction of a Health Sciences Center, and enhancement of the endowment of the Institute for Franciscan Studies, and the Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development (ISSCD).

Dr. Chris Everett Domes assumed the presidency of Neumann University on July 17, 2017. He previously served as president of Silver Lake College of the Holy Family in Manitowoc, Wisconsin. His inauguration was held on October 6, 2017. He succeeded Dr. Rosalie Mirenda, who served as Neumann's president from 1996 to 2017 before retiring.

A strong proponent of Catholic Franciscan education, Dr. Domes' record of accomplishment now spans 33 years in higher education. He has led initiatives in strategic planning, fundraising, academic program extension, enrollment management, community relations, technology access, and campus growth.

In January 2019, the university opened the Health Sciences Center, a 17,000-square-foot addition to the Rocco Abessinio Building (RAB), and the Data Analytics Lab on the third floor of the RAB. The Health Sciences Center facilitates the education of nurses, physical therapists, athletic trainers, and exercise and nutrition specialists. It includes the 300-seat Bayada Teaching Auditorium, named in honor of Ann and Mark Baiada, founders of Bayada Home Health Care and longtime friends of the university. The Data Analytics Lab features glass classroom walls, a stock market ticker, mounted TVs with stock information, three 75" instructional high-definition screens, rise-display monitors at each desk, and a server lab for hacking simulations.

In July 2019, after spending more than a year gathering input from various constituencies, Dr. Domes launched the 2019-22 Strategic Plan, which includes four pillars: leadership, excellence, visibility, and resources. The plan also integrates the themes of diversity and collaboration into every aspect of campus life.

Neumann University Seal

Catholic Education in the Franciscan Tradition

The motto Veritas-Caritas receives its origin from Paul's admonition to the Ephesians: "Rather let us profess the truth in love, and grow to the full maturity of Christ the Head" (Ephesians 4:15). It expresses a dedication to principles formative of mind and heart.

The concept is likewise found in the seal which is highlighted by the Gospel Book surmounted by the Chi-Rho, representative of Christ, the Source of All truth and Truth itself.

The Tau (Greek letter "T"), supporting the Gospel Book was often used by St. Francis of Assisi. For him it was a symbol of the cross and salvation; for us, it becomes a challenge to live a life rooted in Christ.

The Crown, encircling the Tau, symbolizes Mary, Queen and Mother, placed before us as a model of the virtues embodied in the mission of Neumann University.

The Globe is significant of the scope of influence possible to those involved in the educational process at Neumann University, founded in 1965.

The whole is enclosed in the traditional Franciscan symbol, the Knotted Cord, expressive of the vowed dedication of the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia, the founders of Neumann University.

Library

The newly renovated Library space opened at the end of August 2014 to rave reviews and continues to be a popular destination for all members of the Neumann community! The new space features flexible and comfortable study spaces, inspiring views and art work, increased access to technology and device charging, and strengthened WiFi. Thirty-three networked computers, black and white and color printing, and photocopying and scanning were made available to students. The computers are housed on custom-made pods that facilitate both individual and group use. Five group study rooms were added that can each be scheduled online and are equipped with large projection monitors, white boards, and seating for up to five people; collaborative discussions stay behind closed doors to help keep the general Library space quieter and users can hook up their own laptop or make use the of the computer provided in each room. The new space also includes a large and stately quiet reading room for individuals wanting to work in a serene and reflective space. The two floors of the Library are organized with different seating and noise level options to suit study needs that change from day to day.

Research is supported through curriculum-integrated information literacy instruction and a Research Desk staffed by trained and skilled Library professionals. 4,000 Reference questions were addressed by Library staff this past year and Librarians taught over 100 classes in support of meeting Information Literacy Learning Outcomes established within the Core Curriculum. Librarians continued to create additional online Research Guides and use both an online FAQ and Chat software to make finding answers simple.

The Library collection contains approximately 53,000 physical resources ranging in subjects to support the academic pursuits of our many students. There is also a popular paperback collection to nurture a general love of reading and provide the opportunity to simply unwind with a good book! The Library's rapidly growing e-book collection is approaching nearly 200,000 volumes and is accessible by any member of the Neumann community via the internet. Database subscriptions provide access to approximately 100,000 full-text scholarly electronic journals. In addition, database subscriptions also provide full-text access to 1.2 million full-text dissertations and theses and 10,000 full-text news sources. The Library collection is also augmented through extensive borrowing and visitation privileges afforded by membership in consortia like the Southeastern Pennsylvania Consortia for Higher Education (SEPCHE) and Tri-State College Library Cooperative (TCLC).

Programming in the Library supports a sense of community engagement, learning and serving the "whole" student with events like community art receptions, faculty readings, Finals Study Breaks, Black History Month Student Showcase, Women's History Month Pop-Up Inspirations, Nutritional Literacy and programming, the Bock Book Award, a jigsaw Puzzle Place, adult coloring, board games, and other academic and cultural events.

Frances and Wesley Bock Book Award for Children's Literature

Wesley Bock was co-owner of Kilner's, a store in north central Philadelphia that provided equipment, clothing, and supplies to religious institutions. As sales representative to the Sisters of St. Francis, he grew to be quite fond of the Sisters and began making contributions to the order.

When Wesley passed away, his wife Frances continued the contributions. When she died, the estate passed to their nephew, who, in consultation with the Library, established the Bock Book Award in their memory.

The award acknowledges Franciscan values in children's books and gives each year's winner a prize of $750 for the author, $750 for the illustrator, a plaque, and a gold emblazoned emblem for the book.

NeuMedia

Neumann Media is the award winning, nationally and internationally recognized student-run media hub at Neumann University. Beginning in 2008 as Neumann Radio, Neumann Media changed its name in 2010 and is now comprised of 4 parts: 98.5 WNUW, NeuTube TV, NeuPress web publication, and Neumann Sports Network. With the help of 3 professional staff members, over 100 students from all academic majors use state-of-the-art technology that upholds current industry standards.

Neumann Media has won many awards, including Achievement in Radio Award, NATAS Student Emmy awards, and the Spirit of College Radio Day award. NeuTube, the student-run TV Station, won the College Broadcasters Inc. (CBI) 2014 National Student Production Award for Best Television Comedy at the National Student Electronic Media Convention (NSEMC) in Seattle, Washington, and the CBI 2019 award for Best Feature News Reporting at NSEMC in St. Louis, Missouri. The first video, entitled NeuTube Laughs: Shamrock Shakes, follows Shaunagh Devlin, an Irish exchange student, on a search for her very first Shamrock Shake. The second shows the reaction of Jake Loburak, the colorblind videographer, when he received – on air – a pair of glasses that correct his condition.

In May 2015, Neumann Media introduced "Neumann on the Rocks," a program bringing live bands to the rocks in front of the Mirenda Center each Wednesday afternoon. Neumann Media students and members of Neumann's student government provide all of the recording and mixing.

Students land internships and jobs at major industry players, including The Rachel Ray Show, The Wendy Williams Show, Greater Media Radio Group (WMMR, WMGK, WBEN, 97.5 The Fanatic), I Heart Media, Comcast SportsNet, Phillies, Flyers, Columbia Records, Sony Music Group, 6ABC (WPVI), NBC10, FOX29, and many more.

On October 4, 2016, the new addition to the Thomas A. Bruder, Jr. Life Center was named the John J. Mullen Communication Center at a dedication and ribbon-cutting ceremony. Mullen and his wife Joan, longtime friends of the University, gave a leadership gift to the In Giving We Receive campaign, specifically to support the construction of the addition.

The 10,000-square-foot Mullen Communication Center was built to support students in the Communications and Digital Media (CDM) major and those who join Neumann Media to explore their creative talents. It includes:

- Two TV studios with brand new cameras, teleprompters, lights, intercom, news desks, instant replay, wireless transmission, cable TV broadcast capabilities, and much more.
- A radio station with three studios, each capable of live broadcasting, recording, and editing.
- Wenger rooms, which allow sound isolation recording and editing.
- A meeting room for students.
- A green room for radio, TV, or theater guests.
- A multipurpose hall with theater-in-the-round capability for musical and dramatic presentations. It contains two projectors with giant screens, two smart board TVs, two robotic cameras, wireless microphones, and video hookups for projection of student laptops or gaming consoles.

Mission and Ministry Unit

The Mission and Ministry unit provides for the holistic development of the University community through opportunities for continued understanding and deeper appreciation of our Catholic, Franciscan mission and values. Understanding concepts such as social responsibility, personal accountability, and reverence for all creation is central to the Franciscan vision of what it means to be an educated person.

Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry staff provide opportunities for students to deepen their spirituality and develop community through a myriad of activities that include service to the underserved, retreats, celebration of liturgy, faith sharing, sacramental preparation, and evenings of reflection.

Neumann Institute for Franciscan Studies

The Neumann Institute for Franciscan Studies exists to strengthen the vision and charism of Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi within a context of contemporary experiences in higher education. The Institute serves the scholarly and spiritual needs of the Neumann University community through seminars, lecture series, and other educational activities.

The Institute provides ongoing dialog about the Franciscan charism and values as they apply to the intellectual, affective, and ethical development of the Neumann University community.

The Institute also promotes the integration of the Catholic, Franciscan tradition into the curriculum and supports course development by providing resources and research assistance.

Service-Learning/Community Engagement

Neumann University identifies knowledge as "a gift to be shared in the service of others" (Mission 2009). "Neumann's curriculum promotes thoughtful and ethical leadership in service and response to a global and technologically complex world" (Vision 2009). Neumann University embraces "Service" as one of the five core values on which the university RISES (Respect, Integrity, Service, Excellence, Stewardship).

Consistent with its mission, vision, and values Neumann promotes an environment in which service is integrated into the curriculum and co-curricular activities. Neumann University strives to prepare graduates to embrace service as an integral component of their lives, critical to the lifelong process of learning.

The Office of Service-Learning/Community Engagement exists to develop service opportunities for the Neumann Community.

Pastoral Ministry

The Office of Pastoral Ministry is committed to empowering students to notice, appreciate, and develop their relationship with God and others. This spiritual journey, rooted in our Catholic, Franciscan tradition, involves creating time for reflection, prayer, and celebrating with community focusing on the development of each person's potential.

The Office of Pastoral Ministry offers opportunities for:

- Spiritual programming that emphasize students' personal growth and a deeper understanding of our Catholic, Franciscan mission and values;
- Fostering pastoral relationships with students, especially during hospital emergency visits and times of bereavement.

Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development

The Neumann University Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development is the only institute of its kind at a U.S. college or university. Dedicated to exploring the transformative power in and through sport, the Institute offers unique experiences for student-athletes that they can then, in turn, leverage for success in all aspects of their lives. Specifically, the Institute works closely with Neumann's athletic teams, providing them team chaplains, leadership and reflection opportunities, and a lens through which to explore all that sport can offer the mind, body, and spirit.

Identity

The Institute is rooted in the Catholic Franciscan tradition and believes that sport possesses an inescapable spiritual and ethical dimension that merits academic exploration and practical application.

Mission

The Institute, through the lens of athletics, transforms perspectives and inspires behavior that deepens an awareness of self, others, and God.

Vision

The Institute strives to emphasize the spiritual and ethical dimension in sports. The Institute seeks to promote living out the Gospel values in a manner that enriches one's relationship with self, others, and God, and an awareness of the need to go beyond self in service to others. Through research and practice, the Institute commits to offering opportunities for reflection and dialogue on the power of good inherent in sport.

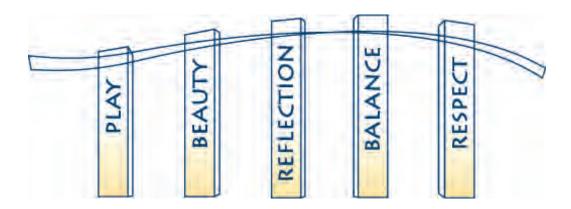

Institute Core Values:

- Respect
- Balance
- Reflection
- Beauty
- Play

The Institute is proud to serve the Neumann community. The Institute:

- Organizes, supervises, and trains team chaplains to support the student-athletes and staff of the Neumann University Athletic Department.
- Plans and facilitates evenings of reflection for each of Neumann's varsity and club teams and three seasonal commissioning ceremonies for varsity and club athletes over the course of the academic year.

- Provides training to student-athletes interested in learning more about leadership, communication, and team-building skills.
- Serves as a source of education, counsel, and support for Neumann staff members who work with student-athletes.
- Produces practical resources for groups seeking to develop programming around sport, coaching, spirituality, and leadership (including reflection guides, training exercises, and team activity templates).
- Researches and publishes information on topics such as the role of reflection in the leadership development of college athletes, mission integration in athletics, team chaplaincy, responsible social network use, and the coach's role in the faith formation of studentathletes.

The Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development Award

The annual Institute Award, given in honor of the late Joseph P. McFadden, Bishop of Harrisburg, recognizes outstanding contributions in sports. Recipients exhibit strong character through athletics, exemplify spirituality, and embody the good that exists in sports.
